Venue

The new Belfast Introductory Course will be taught at the Comfort Hotel, Co Antrim on Saturdays 10th October 2009 ♦ 28th November 2009 ♦ 16th January 2010 ♦ Saturday 13th March 2010 ♦ 24th April 2010

Why should I do this course

Increasing numbers of patients are using Homeopathy and Complementary Medicine, but most health professionals have little basic training in these disciplines.

This course gives a new perspective to patients problems and possible solutions and many participants find that through this patient centred approach they rediscover their enthusiasm for the art of medicine.

During this Course you will

- ▶ Acquire the ability to discuss homeopathy with your patients.
- ▶ Improve your consultation skills.
- ▶ Study 30 acute and first aid remedies that you can use immediately.
- ▶ Start to help patients who do not respond to conventional treatments.
- ▶ Critically review the evidence base.
- ▶ Meet like minded clinicians.
- ▶ Become eligible for the Primary Health Care Exam and the LFHom qualification.
